Miss Thelma Beazley Keene

To our beloved sponsor who has inspired and guided us successfully during our junior and senior years, we dedicate our 1946 MARSHALLITE, as a small token of our appreciation.

PROPERTY OF
THE LIBRARY OF VIRGINIA
RICHMOND, VA

FOREWORD

THE STAFF of the 1946 MARSHALLITE has during the past term tried to capture within its covers the true spirit of John Marshall. Our purpose was to provide pictures and stories that would always bring back fond memories of our days at John Marshall. Often after many years have passed our memories of our three years in high school have become only vague memories. We hope that as you turn the pages of this, the 1946 MARSHALLITE, and see many familiar faces and records of happy hours, you will be able to re-live the eventful three years you spent at John Marshall. We hope, too, that this thirty-sixth volume will measure up to the high standards that are a part of the tradition of this school. If this has been accomplished, then we feel that the staff's labor has been duly rewarded.

SCHOOL DAYS at J-M

The Don Juans trip to Washington

Honor Society Banquet

The annual in the making

The Don Juans return

JOHN MARSHALL, a school backed by much history and tradition! Speaking of history, John Marshall is the only high school in the United States with a shrine on its campus. This shrine is the home of John Marshall, the greatest chief justice and the man for whom our school is named. This also gave us our nickname, "Justices."

The front hall of our school is lined with the portraits of many famous Virginians. These portraits were presented to the school by graduating classes and individuals. Also in the front hall are two cases of trophies that have been awarded to different groups for their outstanding works and achievements.

At John Marshall there is a wide variety of subjects, those preparing a person for college, a commercial career, or any career that one may wish to follow.

Besides the regular English classes there is the journalism class. The pupils in this room learn to write stories for papers, and from this class The Monocle staff is chosen. Some of these students will probably be our newspaper journalists of the future.

Public speaking classes are especially interesting. The training in these classes gives the pupils poise and grace. Particularly interesting are the plays given by the pupils who also learn about drama and things that pertain to the theater in these classes.

An extra added attraction in some of the history classes this year has been the showing of movies that are connected in some way with the phase of history that is being studied. Some history 8 classes visited the General Assembly of Virginia so that they could better understand the civics they had been studying.

Some students may think that mathematics is nothing but a headache, but they soon realize that the "math" they take at John Marshall proves to be very beneficial. A full course is offered at John Marshall including geometry, algebra, and trigonometry. Future architects are greatly aided in these classes as they are taught to use geometric instruments and figures.

Language students, particularly those students of Spanish and French, have an opportunity to enjoy several extra added attractions. There are both Spanish and French clubs that meet on Thursdays to carry out different projects which the pupils are not able to accomplish in the class room because of the lack of time. Each term the classes meet together in the auditorium to learn songs in the language they are studying. This year the classes were able to see movies concerning Spanish speaking and French speaking countries. Some of these movies were in the foreign language. Also two French movies with a Spanish short were shown at a local theater. In April the modern language classes sponsored a banquet. Guest speakers spoke in their native tongues.

Several commercial subjects are offered to those pupils who wish to follow a business career. The more recent subject offered in this course is the class in business fundamentals. A general idea of what goes on in the business world is taught in this class. Two years of bookkeeping are also offered in which the students attain more knowledge of what they will be expected to do if they decide to follow a career of this type. Another new commercial subject offered this year was a course in office machines which was taken at a local office machine company.

Typing classes are kept busy striving to reach their goal of perfection. Two years of shorthand are also offered. Shorthand 3 and 4 students also take a special transcription class which is held during the recess period.

Among the science classes offered Jayem students are chemistry and physics. Experiments are often made in classes that prove to benefit the students greatly. These subjects will particularly help those students who attend college after their high school graduation.

For those students who wish to obtain some experience at work there is the Diversified Occupational Training course. These students attend school only three periods. They are taught many things that are concerned with salesmanship. After attending school these three periods in the morning, they take afternoon jobs so as to put into practice the training received at school and also to gain working experience that will prove beneficial to them later.

Many boys take courses in mechanical drawing, machine shop, and other such courses as are concerned with mechanical devices. Some of these classes are held at Jayem while others are taken at the Virginia Mechanics Institute.

For the girls there are the ever useful and helpful classes in sewing and cooking. In sewing the girls learn how to select and care for their clothes as well as how to make them. Sometimes these classes have fashion shows at which time they display the outfits they have made in class.

In cooking classes the girls particularly enjoy serving the delicious foods that they have prepared. Often outside guests are invited to these gatherings.

A new course was offered this year in commercial foods. The course takes the first three periods, and at lunch time the girls serve the foods they have prepared to the teachers in the newly opened tea room. Not only are the lunches delicious, but they are nutritious and inexpensive. While operating this small tea room at school, the girls learn more about the management of a regular tea room.

John Marshall also has classes in music, both vocal and instrumental. The school orchestra takes part in many activities as well as the vocal classes. Sometimes they present programs in the assembly. They also take part in music festivals. In whatever they undertake they receive much praise from music critics.

Jayem's physical education classes provide enjoyment for many students. These classes also provide exercises that keep the students physically fit.

The art classes are kept busy helping organizations carry out the projects they undertake to do. They make extremely attractive posters on many timely events. They are always willing to help in any way they can. Besides this, they become skilled in molding clay, making vases, and many other things. Many of the art students furnish drawings for the school publications when they are needed.

A new course was offered this year in photography. This subject proved to be extremely interesting, and more are expected to enroll in it by next term. The class first studied instruction slides from a large photo supply manufacturer in this country. These future photographers learned how to take good pictures and how to develop and print their own material.

John Marshall has many extra departments that are now essential, and have proved very helpful.

First among these is the guidance department. There are two capable people in charge of this department. They help students in their choice of studies, help some to locate jobs that are best suited for them, help others that are going to college select the college that will help them most, and give useful information to prospective students. These people are on the job all the time to render service in any way they may be needed.

Cadets in the tunnel

V for Victory in calisthenics

There is the sight conservation class directed by Mrs. Burruss for those whose eyes are bad. She helps them in reading, typing tests and other papers in large type for them, and guides these handicapped pupils in any other way that she can.

Our cafeterias are in exceedingly capable hands. Each day students may buy tasty hot lunches at a very low cost.

Since our books are furnished us free of charge by Richmond, they are used by many people and must be taken care of. Mr. Lux is in charge of the book room. He issues books to teachers that are in turn issued to the students. He looks after the ordering of new books and the binding and mending of old books. If a book has been lost, Mr. Lux is the person to see about paying for it and getting another to replace it.

It is often said that an apple a day keeps the doctor away, but it just seems that sometimes we get sick anyway. That's where Miss Michaux, our nurse, comes in. She determines whether we are all right to come back to school and when we are sick enough to go home. She also helps those students who are in need of special attention.

The Junior Red Cross kept busy collecting waste paper and selling it. They also filled boxes for soldiers and did anything else that would help.

The cheer leaders were kept particularly busy. During the fall a pep rally was held by the senior class each Friday morning to acquaint old students with new cheers and new students with all the cheers. The cheer leaders as usual led the student body in yelling at all games.

Our school has several honorary societies. One of these is the National Honor Society. The students in this society are chosen for their leadership, scholarship, service, and character. Not everything about the Honor Society is serious though, as they have many social interests. The most enjoyable time is initiating the new members.

The Quill and Scroll is another honorary society exclusively for high school journalists. The members feel highly honored when they are chosen for their outstanding work on one of the school's three publications.

The John Marshall Student Association holds an election each spring at which time officers and members of the executive committee are elected. These people do anything they can that will benefit the school and the pupils.

John Marshall is proud of its publications too. The Monocle comes out every other week with the latest news of the school. The Record is published four times a year, bringing us the best stories, poems, essays, and book reviews written by Jayem pupils—and what a thrill this brings to them!

On Marsh 28 and 29 the curtain went up at 8:15 on the spring play. This year Fanny and the Servant Problem was presented. Unlike the servant problem we think of now, with servants so hard to find, Fanny, a chorus girl who married a lord, had trouble because there were twenty-three servants.

The scenery for the play was done by the art classes. Other students who were not in the play, with the help of some teachers, arranged for everything else.

In April, the cadet corps celebrated Sponsors' Day, when each member of the company pinned his ribbon on the lady chosen to sponsor his company.

Every club and organization was now trying to catch up the loose threads and finish the year's work. Each student was preparing for the final tests, and days were busy.

As you should know by now, the '45-'46 school year brought forth many new, interesting, and exciting events for all John Marshall students.

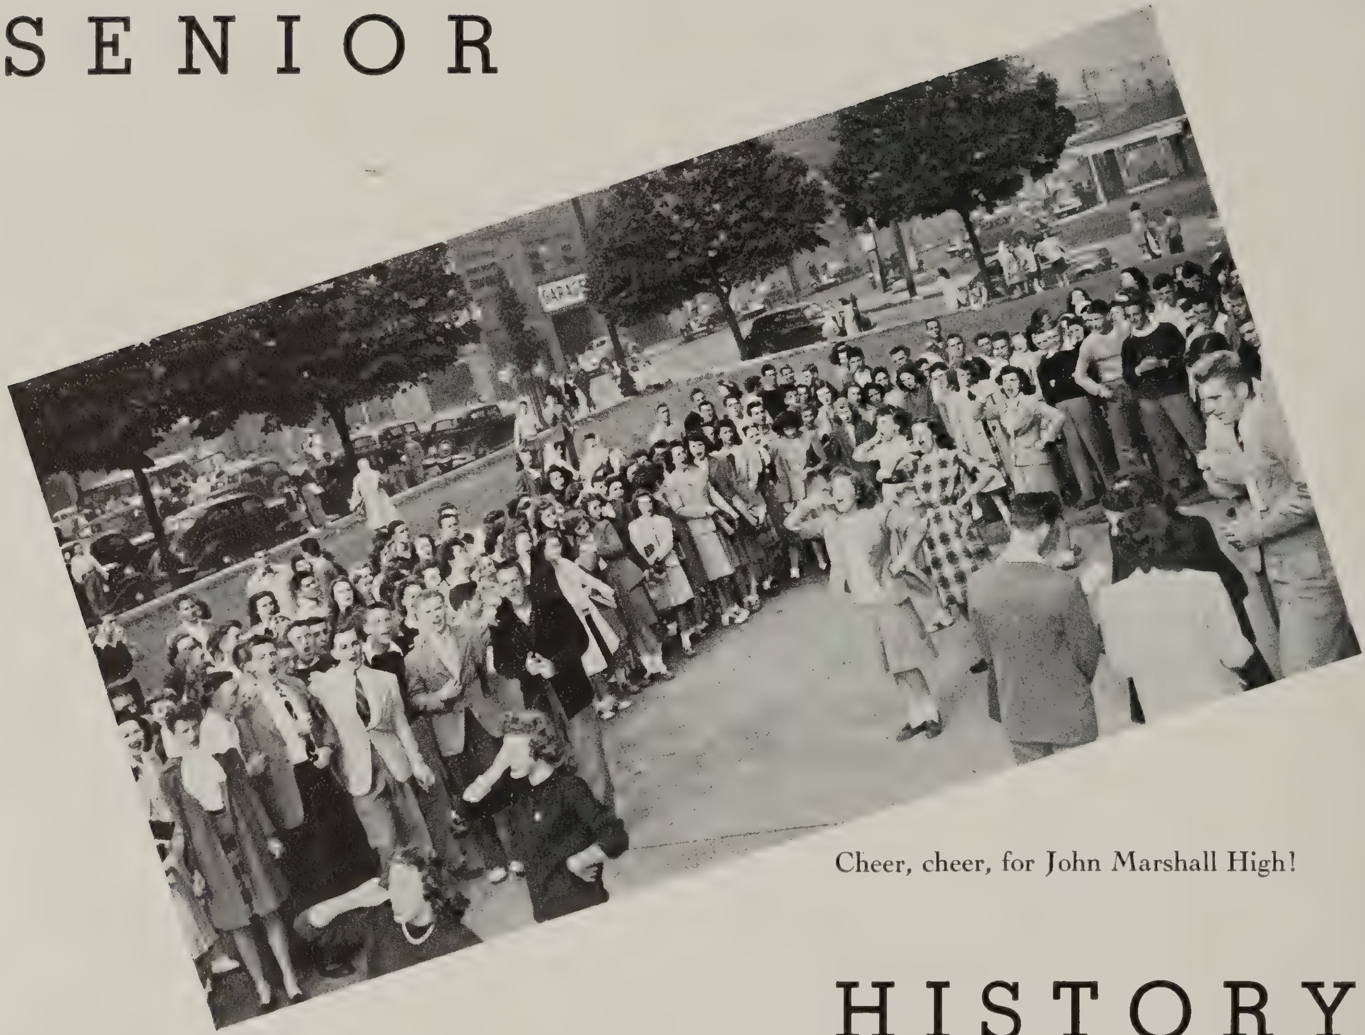
SENIOR HISTORY



Cheer, cheer, for John Marshall High!

President McBroom with sponsor, Miss Keene

GRADUATION, more than any other one event, stands out as a landmark in our lives—a landmark by which we date past and future events.

Our memories of school reached a climax in our senior year, for it was then that we realized our school days were quickly slipping from our grasp and that we must make the best of every opportunity granted us. The senior class organization at John Marshall was officially launched on October 1 in a special assembly, when the candidates for officers were introduced. As we look back, we realize that the element of surprise, woven all through our class activities, played a big part in keeping up such keen interest. It was first used at this organization meeting where the names of the candidates were unknown until the nominees were called to the platform.

After the ballots had been tabulated, the results were kept a secret until the following Friday morning. Then at the first in a series of before-school pep rallies the winners were announced. Leading our class as president we had Kerry McBroom with Marjorie Haycox as our vice-president. Then there were Emma Tilman and Temple Southall, who were secretary and treasurer, respectively, and Hugh Wood representing the cadets.

At the following pep rallies, held on Fridays because it was on those afternoons that we had our football games, the cheer leaders led us in our school yells and songs. Our cadet band played for the final rally just before the T. J.-J. M. game.

On the night of November 30 our first dance was held. There was music, singing, dancing, and a floor show, planned by Joyce Dobbins, of senior talent exclusively. Ben Richardson was emcee, and "The Windsors" from Thomas Jefferson supplied music for dancing. The Wythe Gym was gayly decorated with huge posters depicting familiar high school scenes with huge graduation caps hanging here and there. Blue and white streamers showered from a huge "J. M." in front of the orchestra. There were prizes of defense stamps, candy, and flowers, and we presented Miss Keene, our sponsor, with a lovely orchid. The highlight of the evening was the announcement and presentation of the February "Who's Who." Best looking, girl, Patsy Kimbrough; boy, Columbus Antonelli. Cutest, girl, Dot Schutte; boy, Bobby Davis. Best personality, girl, Joyce Dobbins; boy, Stuart Kersey. Most athletic, girl, Agnes Bickerstaff; boy, Ed Lindsey. Most popular, girl, Mary Lou Smith; boy, Hugh Wood.

A few weeks later these winners, together with the home room representatives and committee members, were entertained at a Christmas party given by our sponsor.

In the meantime, however, on December 4, our principal's birthday had rolled around. Members of the class invaded his office singing, "Happy Birthday to You," and presented him with a pair of fur-lined gloves and a large scroll bearing the signature of every senior.

In December the traditional Christmas program was made the responsibility of our class. As our subject, "The Nativity" was chosen, and a committee headed by David Beverly made all the arrangements. The honor of playing the part of Mary was given to Emma Tilman. The part of Joseph was played by Stuart Kersey. Garbed in gorgeous silk robes, these characters, with those representing shepherds, wise men, and angels, presented scenes in the story of the birth of Christ, as passages from the Scriptures were read by the narrators, Doris Gemmill and Nancye Winder. Seated in the balcony the choir accompanied the pantomime with the singing of familiar carols.

The piano was covered with Christmas stockings filled with fruits, candies, and gifts. These had been collected from the seniors by Billy Barkley's Christmas Service Committee, and after the play they were taken to the City Home for the children there.

After the holidays came T-Day. The senior home room teachers were honored by a tea in the library, and each home room representative acted as a special host for his teacher. Kerry McBroom welcomed the guests while Nancye Winder presided at the teapot. Around a table beautifully set, teachers and students experienced a deeper feeling of friendship.

The end of the first semester brought graduation for our high seniors. On January 29 in caps and gowns they filed down the aisles of the John Marshall auditorium, the girls in white and the boys in blue, to receive their diplomas. Mr. Harwood presided over the ceremonies, and Mr. H. I. Willett, Superintendent of Schools, gave a short talk. The diplomas were delivered by Dr. Miller.

In March our June Who's Who contest was held. The results of the final voting were:

Best looking, girl, Elizabeth Moss; boy, Temple Southall. Cutest, girl, Barbara Rackley; boy, Stuart Cary. Best personality, girl, Dolly Shumaker; boy, Albert Hobbs. Most athletic, girl, Helen Ransom; boy, Kenneth Gathright. Most popular, girl, Janet Wilson; boy, Eugene Rowe. Best all round, girl, Joy Hull; boy, Louis Crescioli. Most intelligent, girl, Dolores Palmore; boy, Raymond Marchetti. Best dressed, girl, Helen Norris; boy, Hugh Jones. Most talented, girl, Betty Ann Whitworth; boy, Donald Harding.

Wishing to follow up our Christmas service work, we chose Easter as an appropriate occasion. Each senior brought fruit which was collected by his home room representative and then packed in beautifully decorated boxes and taken to the children at the City Home.

May 6 was May-Basket Day under the direction of Jean Lynn. In a flower-decked auditorium each senior home room teacher was given a vase of flowers as an expression of appreciation for her guidance during the year.

On May 13 with special ceremonies the portrait of Cyrus Hall McCormick, our farewell gift to the school, was unveiled. Mr. Thomas Lomax Hunter made the address and Mr.Harwood accepted the gift in the name of the school. This portrait, painted by Marcia Silvette, completed the original series of portraits of famous Virginians in our Hall of Fame.

The last social event of the year was the Commencement Dance on the evening of May 31. Shirley Green, who had been chosen by her classmates, was crowned queen, and she and her court presided over the dance.

Graduation exercises were held on June 10 in the Mosque auditorium—our last meeting as the Senior Class of John Marshall High School. After presentation of diplomas, scholarships and other honors were awarded.

We remember as the guiding influence behind our class Miss Thelma Keene. We remember that she, our teachers, and our principal led us along the right path during the most impressionable years of our lives.

Senior Class Historian.

JUNIOR HISTORY

Secret stuff!

September, 1945 . . .

The first activity of the junior class was an assembly program in September introducing candidates for office. Running for president were Bill Norris, the former president of the sophomore class, and Conrad Childress. Bill continued as our president. Joyce Wooldridge won from Gertrude Fleet as the vice-president. Nell McGehee was re-elected the secretary of her class. Marietta Wood was her opponent. For the office of reporter Kitty Jones and Ida Gill Norris battled it out. With the selection of Kitty in this capacity, the elections were completed. We immediately started planning our activities for the year.

October, 1945 . . .

The month of October? What was the first thing that popped into our minds? You've guessed it! A Hallowe'en Dance! We had a juke box, costumes, fortunes, and all—even lolly-pops dressed in crepe paper as witches for our dance favors. Everyone was very eager to have his fortune told by our fortune-teller, Mrs. Wooldridge. The scavenger hunt provided much amusement as lucky contestants returned with blondes, brunettes, red heads, shoe-laces, bow-ties, etc., to claim their prizes. The jitterbug contest was won by Joan Tunstall and her brother, Sergeant Lowell Tunstall. Yes, kids, their feet were really flying! Coming in on the spotlight during the Spotlight Dance and taking first honors were Otis Stone and Joyce Gammon, former Marshallites. Our electricians were Forrest Simmons, Warren Schwartz, Donald Delaney, and Ralph Johns. Katherine Dunkin, Shirley Wollard, Mary Wright, Ida Kaufman, and Joan Tunstall helped in the check rooms. Marguerite Taylor, Joyce Hazelwood, and June Tankersley won prizes for the most original costumes.

January, 1946 . . .

Early in this month, after the holidays and before the final tests, everyone agreed would be a suitable time for a skating party. Those who could attend had a wonderful time. On leaving one could hear such remarks as, "Gee, wasn't it fun!" "Let's do this again," and, "I like the specialty dances."

February, 1946 . . .

A membership drive was started the latter part of this month and was rather successful.

March, 1946 . . .

Interest ran high as each of us received his ballot for the Who's Who Contest.

This contest is one of our annual activities. Billy Patterson and John Lee vied for the honor of being chosen the best looking boy in the junior class. Billy won. Elizabeth Jennette and Margaret Odom were the two aspirants for the coveted selection as the best looking girl in the junior class. Elizabeth won! Congratulations, Lizzie! [Ed.'s Note:] Elizabeth was crowned queen of the spring dance when she was a sophomore, as she had more war bonds and stamps bought in her honor than any other girl in the class. The wittiest boy and girl were Eddie Altman and Connie Hay. The runners-up were Jimmie Teabo and Peggy Oliver. The most intelligent boy and girl were Pat Woods and Jeannette Kinnikin. Robert Parrish and Bette Davis came in second for this high honor. Our athletic team was composed of Jack Eads and Iris Verelle—the same two who won this honor when they were sophomores. Bob Pate, however, was recognized as a real athlete, second only to Jack. There was a tie as to the girl to follow Iris. Virginia Ridenour, Betty Vaughan, Byron Enroughty, and Kitty Jones received the same number of votes. Bill Norris and Kitty Jones were honored as the boy and girl with the most school spirit. Bob Pate and Charlotte Allen were their runners-up.

May, 1946 . . .

The Junior Prom! The dream dance of all juniors! With World War II won, our dance was formal and romanticized with evening dresses, silver slippers, flowers, and escorts. The gym was transformed into a summer garden. Bill Norris with Connie Hay and Kitty Jones with Jack Eads led the figure, followed by Marietta Wood and George Robinson. Others taking part in the figure which was planned by Kitty Jones, Marietta Wood, Martha Moss, and Joyce Wooldridge were: Arline Branham, Jean Howe, Peggy Oliver, Bobbie Brown, Dorothy Rudd, Lois Jarrett, Estelle Clements, Jean Bowler, Lois Lacy, Mary Margaret Solari, Phyllis Broaddus, Joanne Bayliss, and Anne Baldwin. Their escorts were Clifford Nash, Bob Lovelace, Harold Thrower, Al Nelowet, Bobby Hunziker, Bob Kell, Jimmy Gee, Billy Wall, Carl Arnold, Melvin Fuller, John Walker, Robert Creasy, and Vasa Jackson. The favors were friendship rings engraved, "J. M. Jr. Prom, '46." The music was supplied by Mr. Eldridge Starke. The juniors proved their versatility! From a fall dance which featured "hoboes" and black-faced damsels with bandanna handkerchiefs and all, to a spring dance which featured soft music, flowers, moonlit garden, and Southern belles!

Merry-making

The juniors are eagerly anticipating the days when they will be seniors and have the privilege of adding their support to the plans evolved for John Marshall's welfare and fame.

Secretary.

TAURMAN, BELCHER, MISS ROONEY, DODL, WILLIAMS

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

SOON after our arrival at John Marshall we were informed that our Sophomore Class would be organized. This was good news to us, for we were eager to make new friends and to feel that we were really a part of John Marshall. Miss Marie Rooney kindly consented to be our sponsor. Under her guidance class representatives from the home rooms in the Wythe Building met and formed a committee to nominate our class officers. The candidates for office were given the opportunity to make their campaign speeches in the assembly on the following Friday. A few days later election of officers took place, and everyone eagerly awaited the returns. Those elected were Norman Dodl, president; Jean Belcher, vice-president; Doris Williams, secretary; Charles Pittman, treasurer; William Simpson, reporter; and Bertram Taurman, historian.

With such a group to lead us, we were certain that the year would be filled with interest and excitement.

One Saturday early in November we started things rolling with a skating party at the Cavalier Arena. Everyone spent a joyous afternoon waltzing to the smooth music of the Cavalier organ. As they went gliding along, hand-in-hand, the boys and girls in their bright sweaters made a lovely picture. Before the afternoon was over we had added many new names to our list of friends.

How we looked forward to the first dance of our high school life! As this took place just before the Christmas holidays, we made it a gala occasion. The Wythe Gym looked unusually gay with red and green decorations, Santa Clauses, and red paper bells. The girls in their bright-colored dresses and the boys with their plaid jackets and snappy bow-ties really caught the Yuletide spirit which prevailed. Music was furnished by the Club Royal Orchestra and, to add to the occasion, some of our more talented classmates put on an excellent floor show of singing and dancing. Just before eleven o'clock the names of the winners of the door prizes were announced. These lucky sophomores were amazed to discover how many friends they had after the word spread that the prizes were boxes of delicious chocolates!

At the beginning of our second term we had a membership drive which resulted in many new members joining our class. Our officers continued to put forth their greatest effort to perform their duties and to lead us through the year with success in each undertaking.

In March we sponsored a Popularity Contest in order to find out just who was who in our class. Instructions for voting were sent to each home room. After much counting of votes, we found that the most intelligent boy and girl were Norman Dodl and Martha Reuss. Gene Hancock and Jean Belcher were voted the most popular students. Warren Long and Ann Evans had the best personality. The best all-'round sophomores were Billy Roberson and Evelyn Collier. Frank Hoffman and Frances Durrette received the title of the most athletic boy and girl, respectively. The cutest boy was Edward Tyler and Pauline Pledger was chosen as the cutest girl. Hughes Britton and Betty Ann Overbey were chosen as the best dressed members of their class. The results of this contest were not announced until the night of the Spring Dance. This helped to increase the enthusiasm of the sophomores.

Next on our calendar of events was an informal dance. Carrying out the idea of spring, with the gymnasium decorated in streamers of yellow, green, and pink, this second dance of the session was held on April 5. Among the crowds of energetic students who poured into the Wythe Gym were many alumni. Again our boys and girls jived to the music of the Club Royal Orchestra. Another wonderful evening had been spent with our classmates!

Our last outing as sophomores was a scavenger hunt and picnic supper at Forest Hill Park. The hunters had a very lively time and returned from their quest with many amusing incidents to relate. No time was lost in attacking the "hot dogs" and soft drinks.

Fond memories of the days spent in George Wythe will always linger with us. We have formed lasting friendships and we are looking forward to pleasant days next year in the senior building.

Bertram Taurman,
Class Historian.

EVERY SPRING an election is held at which time each student votes for those persons who he thinks capable of doing the work of the John Marshall Student Association. Both officers and members of the executive committee are elected at this time. The students are chosen for their efficiency, dependability, and their willingness to work. The executive committee meets once every week, and one day each month they meet with the representatives from the home rooms. These representatives present any matter that needs to be studied and then make a complete report to the members of the home room the following morning. In this way every student has a voice in his government.

During this past year we have undertaken several projects. Our chief aim has been to promote the sale of bonds and stamps. Posters were placed in the halls, and all students were urged by their home room representatives to support this sale. The record of sales was expressed in hospital units consisting of $3,000 each. John Marshall has placed its units in the McGuire General Hospital. We have also supported the paper drive and the victory clothing drive.

Even though we have been civic-minded and extremely active in national and international affairs, we have not forgotten our duty to our school. We have acted promptly on any school problem that needed our attention.

The National Honor Society

FOR the fall term the John Marshall Chapter of the National Honor Society was under the leadership of Ann K. Hasker as president; Richard Harris as vice-president; Wanda Harrell, secretary; and Betty Bradbury, treasurer.

The first informal get-together was a wiener roast at Forest Hill with—of course—wieners, mustard, onions, and all the trimmings. A few ants made the doughnuts none the less tasty.

The headache of the term was the collecting of write-ups for the Honor Society Scrapbook which fell upon the shoulders of June Williamson, the scrapbook-keeper. In the latter part of November twenty-two persons were invited to join the society. The girls wore pigtails, while the boys donned aprons and hair ribbons for initiation. The formal ceremonies were held in the school auditorium during senior assembly.

The roof garden of the John Marshall Hotel was the scene of the annual Christmas banquet on December 27. Toasts were proposed by both active members and alumni. After the supper a floor show of exclusively Honor Society talent was presented.

The final social of the term was a buffet supper given at Betty Bradbury's during the mid-term vacation.

For the spring term the John Marshall Chapter of the National Honor Society was under the leadership of Joy Hull, president; Kerry McBroom, vice-president; Lois Kreienbaum, secretary; and Louis Crescioli, treasurer.

Sixteen new members were initiated on April 8, in a formal ceremony in the school auditorium. For the mock initiation the boys wore dungarees and plaid shirts with bow ribbons, jewelry, and make-up, while the girls wore their hair on top of their heads with no make-up or jewelry.

Again the headache of the term was the writing and collecting of the write-ups for the Honor Society Scrapbook. Virginia Collier, the scrapbook chairman, had the task of collecting and getting the scrapbook in order.

The informal get-together of the term was a picnic for the new members at one of the local parks. There were, of course, wieners, mustard, potato chips, drinks, and all the trimmings.

Quill and Scroll

THE John Marshall Chapter of Quill and Scroll, International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, strives to uphold the principles of the society—Truth, Initiative, Opportunity, Leadership, Cultural Attainment, Friendship, and Loyalty.

The members of Quill and Scroll must be in the upper third of their classes in scholastic standing at the time of their election and must have done some distinctive work on The Monocle, The Record, or THE MARSHALLITE.

Although last September only one member remained in the society, eight persons from the various publications had qualified by November and had become members of Quill and Scroll. The initiation took place in the sophomore assembly.

Only two members left after the February graduation, for many came back for post-graduate courses. On February 18, fourteen more were ready to take the pledge of the society and were initiated in an upstairs room of the Poe Shrine, after which the Quill and Scroll sponsor, Miss Charles Anthony, was hostess for the annual tea.

The annual Christmas party, a farewell party for Logan Brown just before he left for college, and a short meeting to honor the birthday of Quill and Scroll were other special events for the chapter.

Logan Brown won a medal in a Quill and Scroll international group contest, and Helen Haskins won honorable mention in another similar contest.

The members took active parts, also, in other school activities. Many students served as members of the student association, one member took a leading part in the senior play, and most of the members belong to the National Honor Society.

¡OIGAN UDS! ¡Oigan Uds! Again the Don Juan Club has completed a year of many varied and interesting activities. The club is especially proud of the large increase in membership and the enthusiasm of its members for producing lively and practical programs.

In the early days of November, a group of thirty of the members made a trip to Washington with the Pan-American Building as its main goal, but the entire day was spent visiting points of interest in and near Washington. Assuring a minor dose of the Spanish language, even if served in a silver spoon, three Cubans, two of whom knew practically no English, accompanied the party. La diplomacia. ¿Eh?

As always, the chief delight came in the form of the annual French-Spanish banquet, at which the club enjoyed talks by natives and entertainment by some fellow-members.

Our ultimate goal is to become better acquainted with Spanish and the people who speak it. ¡Buena Suerte! ¡Hasta la vista!

BONJOUR, nos amis de la France libre. The Sans Souci Club, during the year of 1945-'46, has seen the world at war and at peace. However, its gaiety and activities were never ended, in spite of all the hardships on the globe.

In addition to the usual programs of songs, games, skits, quiz contests, and speakers, the club this year undertook a very worthy project, the adoption of a French orphan, through the "American Relief for France" organization. Two gift packages of food and clothing were sent each month to our orphan, a girl of twelve years.

The club helped sponsor two French films at the Capitol Theatre. "Tarakanova," starring Annie Vernay, played December 8th to a large audience. April 13th, students and the public enjoyed seeing the well-known producer, playwright, and actor, Sacha Guitry, in "Les Perles de La Couronne."

No year would be complete without the annual banquet at Ewart's Cafeteria. Good food, interesting speakers, French and Spanish songs, dances and other entertainment all contributed towards making this a very gala occasion.

Taking as our theme, "Vive la France Éternelle," we the members of the Sans Souci Club look forward to another year, with gladness in our hearts that "la liberté, l'égalite, et la fraternité" have been restored to all loyal Frenchmen.

Drama Class, First Term

THE Class of Drama is the outgrowth of a dramatic organization of the same name, formerly an extra-curricular activity organized and sponsored by Mrs. Charlotte Wheeler De Courcy, who procured the present stage, curtains, and equipment in the regular class room, 209. Through the efforts of Miss Eva Branch and Mrs. De Courcy, it became a regular class in 1938, a part of the public speaking course. Students eligible for this course are those who make good marks on public speaking and desire a course in dramatics. The students act, direct, and put on plays, doing all the work themselves with help and advice from the teacher. During the term each student takes part in one sketch from a three-act play and three one-act plays. He works on committees, such as library, costume, lights, make-up, props, bulletin board, and set. He makes a notebook containing an outline of the history of drama and all notes pertaining to committee work, a record of plays produced, drawings of sets and programs, and pictures of period costumes. The student plans his own sets, borrows or creates the properties he uses, and learns to co-operate with the whole class. He meets, sees, and produces good plays. He practices control of body and voice, and the more work he does, the more fun he has.

Drama Class, Second Term

THE spring play for the school was begun before the second term, the characters being chosen from the Public Speaking I classes, who became drama students in the spring term. Rehearsals were started in January. The play was presented on March 29 and 30. Twenty-three characters appeared on stage in Jerome K. Jerome's four-act comedy, "Fanny and the Servant Problem."

Those students not working in the school play were busily engaged producing one-act plays. In the choice of one-acts, all types of drama from fantasy to tragedy have been illustrated. Problems of staging a play on our small classroom stage present many puzzles. Adjusting costumes from one period to another calls for research in costume books, practice with needle and thread, and ingenuity. Turning teen-age people into elderly men and women requires adjustment in bodily posture, voice, clothes, hair, and movement. Many have developed the technique of laughing or weeping effectively at a moment's notice. Co-operation, self-control, poise, grace and responsibility are developed as far as possible. When work is fun, anything is possible.

Some of the one-act plays for class presentation were: "Always a Prisoner," "Lady Fingers," "Overtones," "The Will-o'-the-Wisp," The Woman in the Freight Car," "The Purple Door Knob," "They're None of Them Perfect," "The Rector," "When the Whirlwind Blows," "The Devil on Stilts," "Never Too Old," "Story of a Dead Woman," "The Valiant," "The Wonder Hat," "Lost Victory," "Women at War," "Red Wax," "Wisdom Teeth," "Letters," "Miracle Merchant," "Sandalwood Box," "Perfect Ending."

THE MONOCLE

Harrell, Hull, Benson, Golden, Doub

AT THE ripe old age of seventeen, the age of most of the graduating class, The Monocle is still pursuing and achieving big things.

Six events marked the high points of the year! One of these was the winning of the Quill and Scroll international honor award for the ninth consecutive year.

Another was the appointment of Colonel Frank McCarthy, the first editor of The Monocle, as Assistant Secretary of State. He, at the age of thirty-three, was the youngest man in recent years to hold a position in the State Department of this nation.

Logan Brown, co-editor of The Monocle, '45, brought further recognition to the school newspaper by receiving a medal as one of ten top honor winners in an editorial contest held by the international Quill and Scroll Society.

At the end of the February term, everyone in Room 104 paused while eating doughnuts and drinking fruit juice, during a recess, to hear an announcement of the new staff members.

There was fun for all when members of the fourth estate and friends celebrated the seventeenth birthday of The Monocle with a party, March 1. Principal James C. Harwood cut the first slice of a beautifully iced devil's food cake.

In the spring of '46 The Monocle was awarded the medalists rating and won all-Columbian on features in the Columbia Scholastic Press Contest. The school periodical scored 960 points out of a possible 1,000.

During the year, members of the staff submitted entries to various contests. Among these were entries to each division, including news stories, feature stories, interviews, sport stories, and columns, of the Scholastic Awards Contest sponsored by Quill and Scroll Society.

During our seventeen years of age, Miss Charles Anthony has been our adviser. Through her unlimited help and guidance, The Monocle has prospered and developed into the paper it is today. It is to her we all owe a debt of gratitude and a vote of thanks. We here express our appreciation to Miss Anthony for her interest, patience, and great assistance.

She justly deserves a large share of the honors that have come to our publication.

This past year has been a full and interesting one for The Monocle staff, who tried to live up to the high standards The Monocle has maintained.

"We are leaving John Marshall and The Monocle behind, as we tread the different paths of life. We leave knowing, however, that our experience working on The Monocle will be like a light leading and helping us along the right path," remarked an editor.

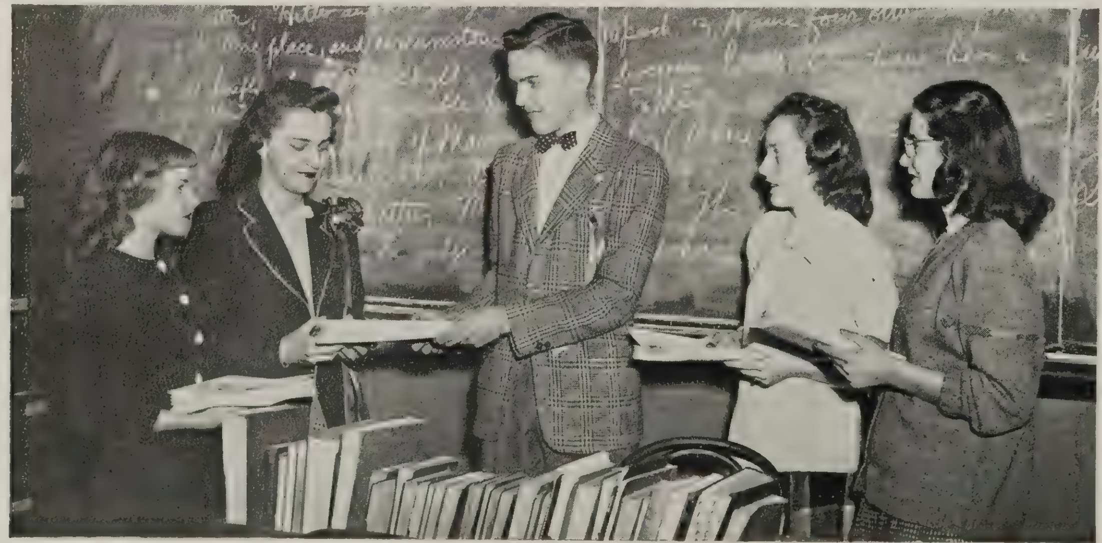
THE RECORD

COUNTING words, reading manuscripts, correcting spelling and punctuation—no, we don't mean the teachers; we're referring to The Record staff down in 114. Just drop in any Thursday after school and you'll see what we mean!

Even though it's fun, compiling material for a magazine can keep a person—in fact, several people—rather busy. The brainwork it takes seems to be the main difficulty—what we mean is, thinking up new ideas and then putting them into effect.



Napier, Green, Hunziker, Tinsley, Lynn

However, thanks to some good workers and good thinkers, even that part hasn't been too hard.

This year Jean Lynn, our Jack-of-all-trades, co-operated willingly and introduced to Marshallites several new departments. She brought the "Cadet Department" to life with poetry, stories, and such, written by or about cadets. Also, since there are many in our school who served our country in the armed forces, a "Veteran's Corner" was founded. This consists of the adventures and thoughts of our veterans here at John Marshall.

Justices' Court, the what-not shelf of The Record, was ably handled by Jean Tinsley. "Book Reviews" found themselves in the good company of Kathleen Burkett, a book lover and also an associate editor. Another associate editor is Shirley Green.

The imaginations of Marshallites were aroused by the poetry of May Krause and Norma Harris. Norma is not only outstanding as a poet, but has tried her hand at story writing—quite successfully, too.

Owen, Krause, Guthrie, Mr. Beverly

Kreienbaum, Mays, Lane, Childress, Breeden, Burkett, Carr, Minor

"Languages" were spoken fluently under the capable supervision of Jane Napier, a student of French.

Under the brilliant brushes of Mary Kohler, Janet Wilson, Janet Boykin, and Margie Hendley, The Record covers have shown much variety.

Bobby Hunziker, our business manager, has all the fun—he handles the money end of The Record. Of course we don't let him get by without a little work. His is the responsibility of getting advertisements. However, for the last issue his duties were taken over by Arthur Tyler, who didn't mind handling the money at all.

"Exchanges" reappeared this year under the supervision of David Beverly, a co-editor. Each issue of The Record was exchanged with nearly twenty high schools throughout the United States, England, and other countries. Unusual bits were clipped from the magazines sent from other schools and printed in "Exchanges."

Last but far from least is our adviser, both business and literary, Mr. Walter Beverly. There's nothing he will not and has not done for The Record. What could we have done without his omnipresent ideas, inspiring suggestions, and guiding hand?

THE MARSHALLITE

Editor Dolores Palmore and our printer

Business Manager Bob Tuttle with helpers, Bowers and Dixon

THE MARSHALLITE staff began its work last fall almost as soon as we started to school. At our first meeting all of the staff members became acquainted with our very capable adviser, Miss Wilhelmina Wright, whom we all came to know and love more as we worked with her.

At the first meeting Miss Wright gave us an idea of the general work of the annual staff. One of the first things we did was to go out and get as many advertisements as we could. Next we arranged all senior names in alphabetical order and posted them according to the day appointed for them to have their pictures taken.

It was not long then before we started obtaining subscriptions for the annual. Each morning for a week members of the staff would visit the senior home rooms to receive these subscriptions.

All during the year our workers were kept busy finding out the dates, times, and places of special activities. A photographer was always there to get the most interesting shots. A member of the staff always met him to help in any way possible. All during this time, too, pictures were being taken of classes, sports, cadets, and clubs that are always included in our annual.

It wasn't long before we had a great deal of work to be taken to the engraver. He always had some very valuable suggestions to make that helped us. After he had made the cuts for us we kept the printer busy getting the proof of all this work ready.

Copies of all pictures were made for us, and we thoroughly enjoyed pasting them in our dummy. Previously we had set aside a certain number of pages for each section, and cut numbers had been assigned to the pages and pictures.

There was quite a rush just before Easter getting all write-ups to the printers so that the proof could be ready when we returned from our Easter vacation and we could correct it.

Of course, there was the last minute rush to get everything ready, and our visits to the printer became a daily occurrence. During these frequent visits we usually stopped somewhere for refreshments, according to Miss Wright's custom. So you can see everything on the annual staff was not work.

As members of the staff we enjoyed doing our part of the work, but without the help of Miss Wright we would have been helpless. Working with her has made our high school days more enjoyable, and we shall never forget the good times we had.

Crewe

The John Marshall team opened the season by defeating Crewe High School by an easy 18 to 0 score. The Blue and White proved to be too much for the Crewe eleven throughout the game, with Kenneth Gathright making two of the touchdowns and Alvin Bucher making the third.

Benedictine

It was a different story when the Big Blue Team met the Irishmen of Benedictine. This was an evenly matched game with Benedictine scoring and making the extra point in the first quarter and Garbett for John Marshall in the third quarter making an excellent eighteen yard run for a touchdown. The kick for the extra point was no good, causing John Marshall to lose by a score of 7 to 6.

Saint Christopher

The Justices were handed their first big defeat of the season by Saint Christopher's eleven. It was a rainy day but this did not stop the Saint's star, Doug Chapman, from doing some nice running and passing. The Saints accounted for three touchdowns and one extra point, defeating the John Marshall eleven by a score of 19 to 0.

Danville

The John Marshall boys in their only night game were defeated by the Danville Cardinals by a score of 13 to 0. Danville scored in the first and third quarters.

Roanoke

The Blue and White team bowed to the Roanoke eleven on their own field, 13 to 7. Roanoke made their 13 points in the first quarter. Garbett recovered a fumble behind Roanoke's goal, and Bucher made good the extra point for our 7 points.

Granby

When John Marshall's eleven met the Granby eleven at Norfolk, it was a one-sided victory for Granby. Bucher made the only thirteen points for the Justices. The score was 51 to 13 when the final whistle blew. The John Marshall Corps of Cadets were present at this game and gave an excellent exhibition of drilling and cheering for the team in between the halves.

Hopewell

The Justices bowed to the Hopewell Blue Devils by a score of 20 to 6. The game was closer than the score indicated because the Justices were trailing by 7 points in the last few minutes of the game and had a chance of tying it up until Garbett's pass was intercepted and carried over for a score for Hopewell. Honors go to Garbett and Lindsey as Garbett's nice pass was caught beautifully and carried over for the only score by Co-Captain Ed Lindsey.

Alexandria

The losing streak was finally snapped as the Justices, led by Lawrence Emerson's beautiful runs, defeated the Alexandria eleven 15 to 7.

Alexandria scored in the first quarter on a sixty-four yard run by Edgar Simms, fullback. The kick for the extra point was good for another point. The irregularity in the score came about when the Justices blocked one of Alexandria's kicks in the end zone and downed it for 2 points.

Thomas Jefferson

The Presidents were just too much for the Justices when they played their annual game in the city stadium before a crowd of 18,000. The Justices never even threatened to score. The Big Red team walked over the Big Blue team in a one-sided score of 46 to 0. This is the largest score either team has ever made against the other in one game.

Petersburg

The Crimson Waves of Petersburg handed the John Marshall boys their last defeat of the season on Thanksgiving Day. The field was extremely muddy but did not seem to stop the Petersburg eleven. Donald Jacobs and Bill Stevens, both crossing the goal line twice, led the Crimson Waves to a victory of 25 to 0. John Marshall had only one chance to score when Ellis blocked a Wave kick on the 8 yard line, but the Justices failed to score in four tries. The John Marshall students showed fine school spirit, turning out in a large crowd after the terrible defeat by Thomas Jefferson.

BASKETBALL

Captain Gathright

January 3

The John Marshall basketball team won their first game of the season by defeating the Randolph-Macon Bees, 43 to 18. Co-Captain Gathright and Forward Forrest Simmons were top scorers with 10 points apiece. Paul Gentry, new center, looked mighty good with 8 points.

January 7

The Justices were just a little too late getting started against Benedictine. John Marshall lost by a close score of 22 to 20. Forrest Simmons and Stump Garbett led John Marshall scorers with 7 points apiece. In their second game, February 4, John Marshall defeated Benedictine 29 to 27, with Ted Filer, high point man, with 11 points.

January 10

John Marshall bowed to Petersburg in one of the closest games of the season by a score of 21 to 20. Paul Gentry led the Justice score of 11 points. In their return game on February 12, Petersburg easily defeated the Blue and White. Ted Filer hit the hoop

John Marshall walked over Hopewell by a score of 54 to 23. Kenneth Gathright led the Justices with 15 points. In their second game with Hopewell John Marshall won another easy victory, 39 to 12. Ted Filer was high scorer with 14 points.

January 18

Granby High School from Norfolk trounced the Justices, 43 to 27, in the George Wythe gymnasium. Gathright was high scorer for John Marshall with 9 points on their second game, February 1, at Norfolk; John Marshall was again defeated by Granby by a score of 37 to 17. The Justices in the second game with Granby were handicapped because of the loss of Co-Captain Garbett, Paul Gentry, and Sonny Carroll, due to failure in studies.

Maury walked over the Justices by a score of 40 to 26. Ted Filer was high point man for John Marshall with 9 points.

January 25

Thomas Jefferson defeated John Marshall 50 to 30 before a capacity—were led by Paul Gentry who hit the hoop for 7 points. In their return engagement on February 22 Thomas Jefferson again defeated John Marshall before a capacity crowd, 54 to 36. This was John Marshall's last game. Saint Christopher's in their own gym defeated John Marshall 39 to 27. This is the first game John Marshall played with the loss of Co-Captain Garbett, and Forwards Paul Gentry and Sonny Carroll. Frank Hoffman and Eddie Huff, new arrivals from Chandler Junior High, played nice games in the place of lost men. February 8

Hampton defeated John Marshall in overtime, 39 to 29. A long set-shot and chavity toss by Co-Captain Gathright sent the game into overtime. Hampton in overtime hit the hoop for 10 points and the Justices were held scoreless.

JOHN MARSHALL'S baseball team under Coach Denton opened its season by defeating Battlefield Park High School 5 to 3. Gathright was on the mound and went all the way to be credited for the victory.

In their second game, which was more or less a practice game, John Marshall was tied by Highland Springs 6 to 6. The game was called on account of darkness. Mert Jones with a double and Dale Hulce with a triple were the outstanding hitters.

With Gathright striking out eleven batters, the Justice nine defeated Petersburg High School 11 to 3. Simmons, Hulce, and Jones with a double each looked good at the plate for John Marshall.

In their first city championship game with Benedictine John Marshall lost by a close score of 8 to 6. The game was John Marshall's all the way, until the ninth inning when Benedictine staged a five run rally to take the lead. It was Gathright's first defeat of the season.

John Marshall in their return engagement was defeated by Highland Springs at Highland Springs, 9 to 6. Barnhill started the mound but was relieved by Osterbind whom the defeat was marked against.

In their second city championship game, John Marshall was defeated by Thomas Jefferson, 16 to 4. Gathright was taken from the mound early in the game due to a sore arm, and Smith went to the mound. Smith was taken out after pitching one and a half innings and Barnhill finished the game.

In a hard luck game, John Marshall was defeated by Saint Christopher 8 to 7. The score stood 8 to 3 in the ninth inning, but Kenneth Gathright knocked a home run with bases loaded which brought the score up to 8 to 7. Then came the hard luck when Center Fielder Owens slammed a home run which would have tied the score up if he had not forgotten to tag first base. The defeat was marked against Gathright.

Barnhill pitched a beautiful game for John Marshall when they shut out Hopewell 4 to 0. Barnhill not only looked good on the mound but looked good at the plate, getting three hits for four trips to the plate.

John Marshall's baseball team has yet to play return engagements with Petersburg, Portsmouth, Hopewell, Benedictine, Saint Christopher, and Thomas Jefferson.

TENNIS

DURING the spring term one of the most popular afternoon hang-outs is Hotchkiss Field, where, every Wednesday and Friday, the John Marshall girls' tennis team practices.

At the time this went to press, they had not played any league games but were working hard for the coming Thomas Jefferson-John Marshall tilt on May 10.

Some of the best players were Maureen Smith, Audrey Lynn, Helen Ranson, Ann Newland, Betty Vaughn and Iris Verelle.

Each girl brought her own tennis racquet and sometimes balls. Miss McKenny had several balls left from previous seasons and, therefore, the ball shortage didn't affect the Marshallites.

EVERY year John Marshall has a girls' softball team which plays against other girls' teams in the city. They practice twice a week at Hotchkiss Field.

These girls did not have to be members of the gym classes, but came out only because they were interested in baseball and had school spirit.

Several practice games were played early in the season but none of the important games had taken place when this went to press.

Some of the outstanding players were Betty Vaughn, Helen Ranson, Ann Durrette, Betty Collier, Virginia Ridenour, Mary Ellen Blackburn, Dorothy Fields, Margaret Bailey and Ann Newland. Others on the team show great promise.
